

Scaling Tool

Thinking about your current situation where would you place yourself on the scale?

Why are you this number and not any lower?

What was different when you were higher on the scale?

What could you be doing to get you one point closer to ten?